✦ Your design at a glance

That drawing is you. The nine shapes are energy centres; the ones glowing gold are defined: they work the same way your whole life. The ones left pale are open: they have no rhythm of their own, they amplify whatever surrounds them. The lines are the channels, the small numbers the gates — sixty-four in all, like the hexagrams of the I Ching this system borrows from.

✦ Your six channels

A channel is two gates answering each other across two centres. While only one is lit, nothing flows; when both are, the circuit closes for good. You have six; chapter 7 takes them apart properly.

5 — 15 Rhythm · Sacral ↔ G Centre

You have a tempo of your own, and your body defends it. Rituals, meals at the same hour: that isn't rigidity, it's energy that needs a regular frame.

10 — 34 Exploration · G Centre ↔ Sacral

This is the channel of following your own conviction. Your energy switches on when you do what looks like you, and cuts out the moment you force it.

25 — 51 Initiation · G Centre ↔ Heart

The shock that wakes you up. It puts ruptures in your path — a departure, a loss — and hands you the rare ability to cross them without losing your appetite for the world.

26 — 44 Surrender · Heart ↔ Spleen

You can carry an idea until people believe it, and pick out by instinct what will work. Its shadow is well known: truth turns elastic here. Your rule fits in one word — check.

29 — 46 Discovery · Sacral ↔ G Centre

You say yes, and you commit with your whole body. One discipline: only say yes when the sacral has answered, because you will see through everything you accept.

35 — 36 Transience · Throat ↔ Solar Plexus

The hunger for experience. You want to taste it, try it — and once you know, you move on. It wires your solar plexus to your voice: hence waiting out the wave before you commit.

✦ 1 · Your type — Manifesting Generator

Maria, you are a Manifesting Generator, and the first thing to know is that this is neither a compliment nor a label: it's a description of your mechanics. Your sacral centre is defined — it glows in the middle of your bodygraph — which means you carry a source of life energy that recharges every night and spends itself every day, whether you use it or not. And because that energy finds a path all the way up to your throat, it doesn't merely keep you going: it comes out, it acts, it moves fast. That's where the impression so many Manifesting Generators describe comes from — starting three things at once, skipping steps, arriving before everyone else without quite knowing how. You are not disorganised. You are simply wired to find the shortcut.

✦ Wooly's tip

This week, start nothing new — watch what you have already begun instead. Note every time your energy drops away all at once; that is almost always the sign that you committed without genuinely responding. Nothing to fix yet. Just catch the moment.
